—U.N. Tries To Allay Fears— U.S. Warns Rhee Against Attack Plan

Allies To Quell Any ROK Attempt To Fight Indians Guarding POWs

PANMUNJOM (Saturday) (AP)—U.S. troops and tanks took up positions at vital road points near the anti-Communist prisoner stockades in the Korean neutral zone today to block threatened South Korean armed action against Indian troops guarding the POWs.

The tanks, some equipped with flamethrowers, were pointed south toward Seoul and not at the Communist North.

There was no immediate official explanation for the show of might.

PANMUNJOM (Saturday) (AP)—The U.N. command assured India Friday that the Allies would quell any attempt by South Korea to fight Indian troops guarding bawky prisoners of war in the demilitarized zone.

The U.N. command also sought to allay Indian fears of trouble from the prisoners themselves by sending the captives a warning that the allies would not condone any mass breakouts.

In Washington, the State Department said the U.S. government has strongly cautioned South Korea against carrying out threats to attack Indian troops.

“We intend to carry out our responsibilities under the armistice agreement, including maintenance of security in the area,” a statement read.

The situation has been tense in the neutral zone where 5,000 Indian troops guard 22,500 Chinese and North Korean prisoners refusing to return to Communism and 359 allies, including 23 Americans, who turned down direct repatriation. These prisoners are awaiting the start of explanations by both sides aimed at persuading them to change their minds.

Recently, after Indian troops killed three prisoners and wounded 10 in putting down two riots, South Korea's government sent a note—relayed by the 8th Army—threatening armed action against the Indians.

Zimmerman Wins Plea From Labor Post Separation

O. J. Zimmerman of Lincoln claims supervisor in the Division of Employment Security of the State Labor Department, won an appeal to the state Merit System Council from being separated as an employee as a result of reduction in federal funds.

The council at a hearing Wednesday heard from Zimmerman and administrative officers of the agency. It was found that “the layoff formula had been improperly applied and strongly recommended that Zimmerman be reinstated to his former position.”

Accident Injures Six-Year-Old Girl

Clairetta O'Neal, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O'Neal, 123 D, is under observation for internal injuries to her leg and hip at St. Elizabeth Hospital following a car-pedestrian accident Friday on 22nd between D and E.

Driver of the car, Gerald Gallagher, 40, 1029 So. 15th, told police that as he was driving north he saw the girl running just behind a parked car, approximately seven feet ahead. He said he applied his brakes. Police indicated that the girl was going west across 22nd from the east.

Mayor To Ask Council Vote On SE Diagonal Land Rights

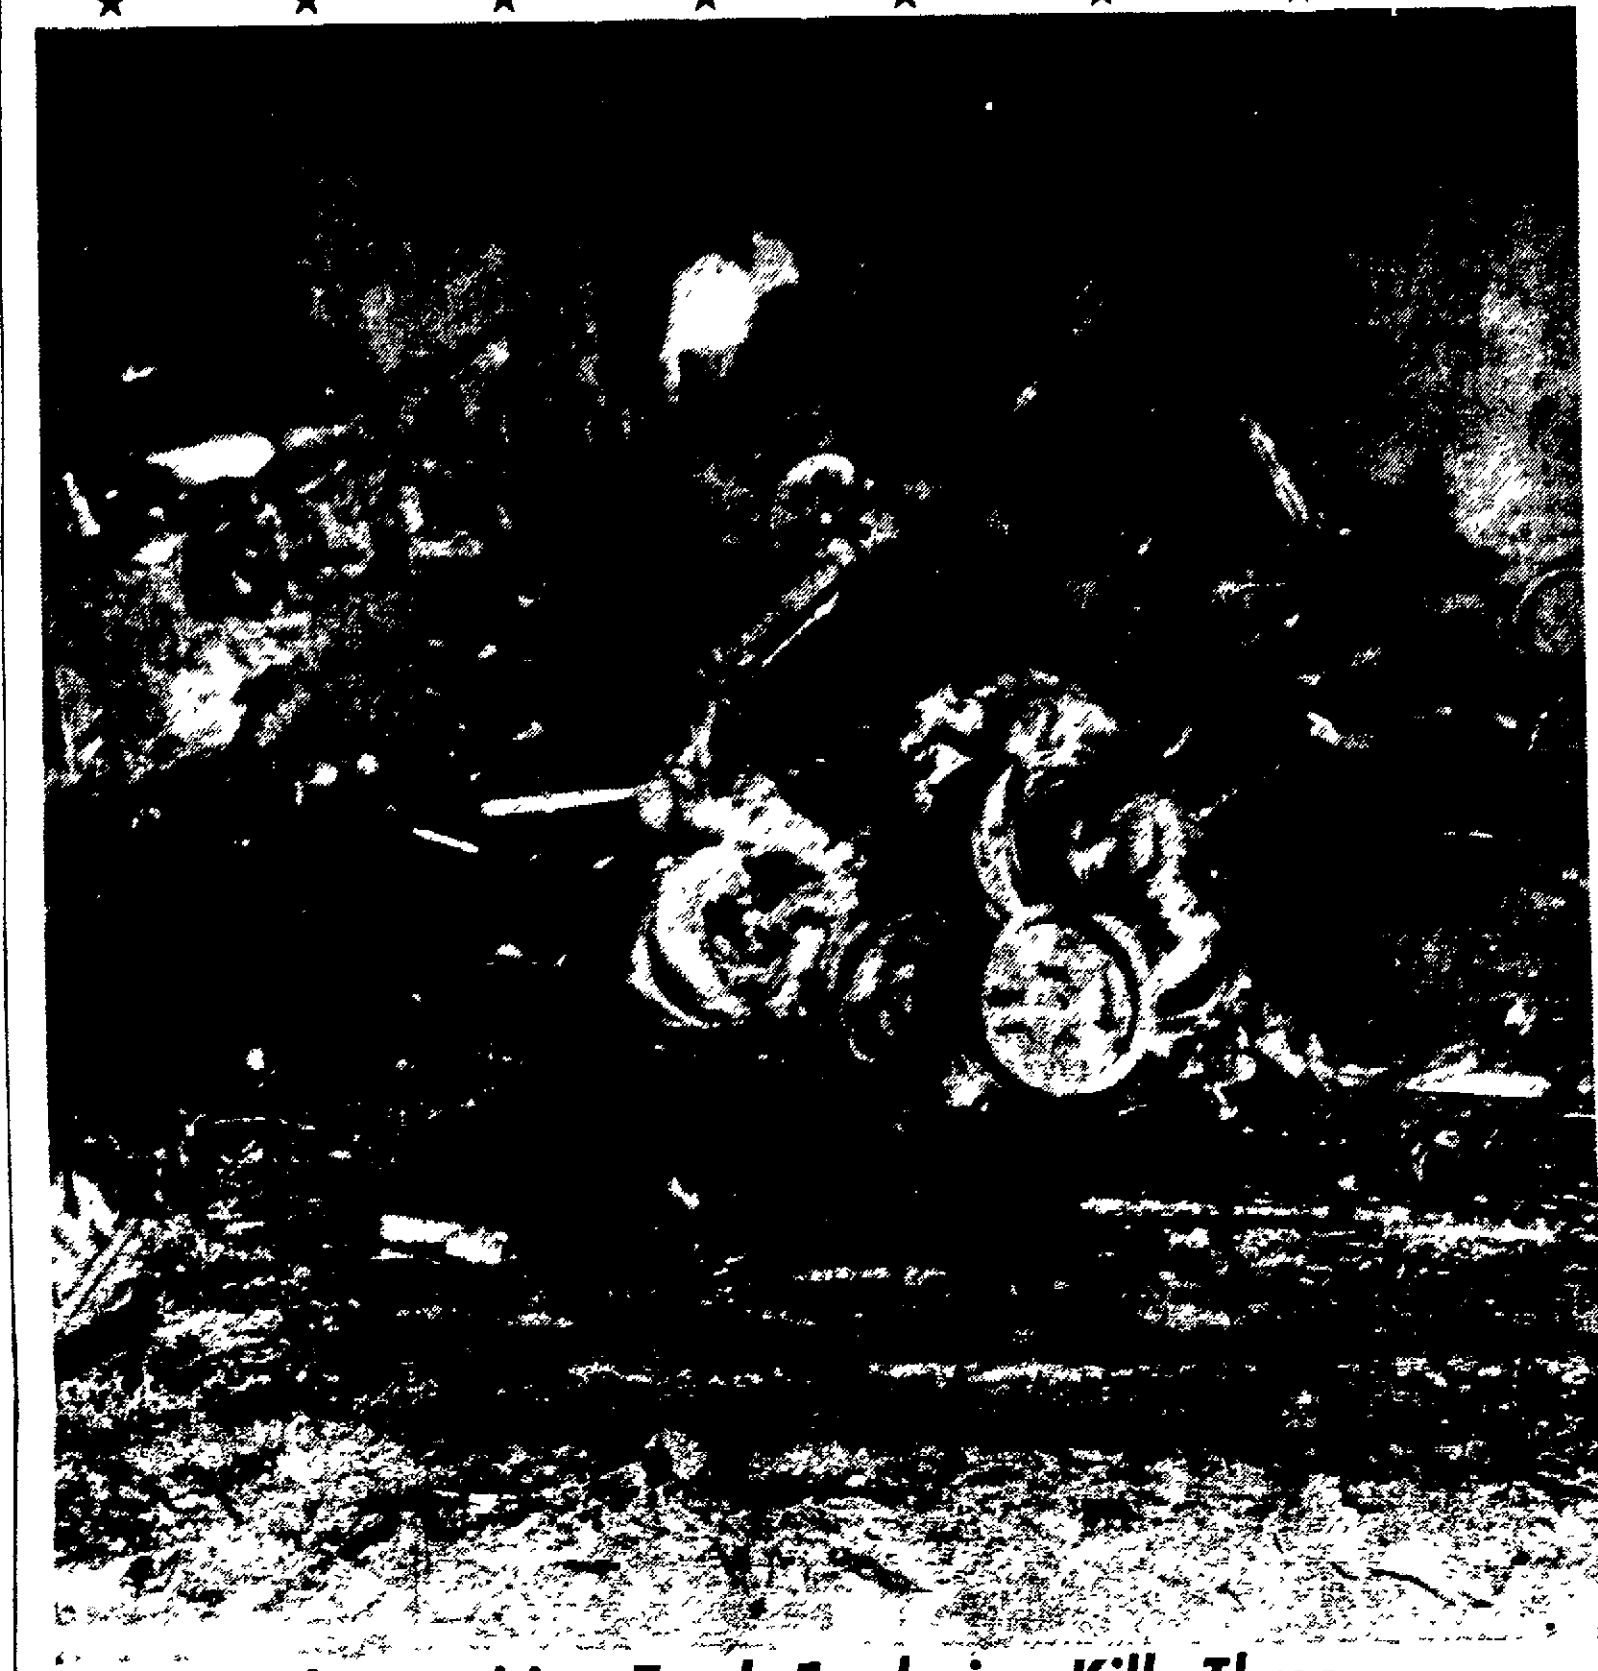

The City Council will be asked Tuesday by Mayor Clark Jeary to vote on a proposed contract with the school district for the acquisition and exchange of certain properties to clear the way for a start on the southeast diagonal.

“We have a rough appraisal on the land involved,” said Jeary, “and have a commitment from the school board so we know just about where we are headed.”

The school board has given verbal approval to the contract. The board has set an $80,000 ceiling on its share of the cost of the project.

City planning Engineer Paul Watt has estimated the entire project will cost from $140,000 to $180,000. The wide spread, said Watt, is due to the fact that some cost items cannot be definitely determined until the project is under way.

Ammo Curb Bill Failed; Controls In City, County

By SALLY ADAMS
Star Staff Writer

A bill proposing to restrict shipments of explosives by truck in Nebraska to 5,000 pounds per load failed to pass the 1953 legislative session.

The present state law now gives most of the control of transportation explosives to cities and counties.

The measure, LB 147, was introduced by Sen. Hal Bridenbaugh in the 1953 session for “preventing something that might happen if those trucks were ever involved in an accident.”

The bill was opposed at a public hearing by J. Frank Perrin, counsel for the Military Traffic Division of the Department of Defense. Perrin said the act would harm the defense program.

“No Calamities”

“There is no record of excessive highway calamities, death and damage caused by the transportation of explosives by truck,” he said at the hearing. “In other words, there is no valid safety reason for this legislation.”

The bill was also opposed by the Nebraska Motor Carriers Association. The Farm Bureau Federation supported its passage.

In May, the bill had been introduced, but not passed, in 11 states including Nebraska.

On the local level, Joe Carroll, Lincoln chief of police, said there is a city ordinance which requires a written permit signed by him authorizing the transportation of explosives through the city limits. The trucks, he said, are furnished police escorts through the city and requested to follow preferred routes, out of the usual line of traffic, if at all possible.

Deputy County Attorney Elmer Scheele said there were no county laws governing the transportation of explosives.

It has been proposed several times that the State Railway Commission draft a set of safety regulations governing the transportation of explosives. However, Harold Palmer, state railway commissioner, said no formal proposals have been presented to the commission.

There are four federal ammunition installations in Nebraska—at Sidney, Grand Island, Hastings and Mead.

Lincolnite Is One Of 10 Nebraskans Chosen College Of Surgeon Fellows

Dr. Frederick S. Webster of Lincoln was one of 10 Nebraska surgeons inducted Friday night as Fellows of the American College of Surgeons.

ACS inducted 1,100 surgeons in ceremonies in Chicago, climaxing a five-day annual meeting.

Other Nebraska surgeons named as “fellows” include the following:

Max M. Rabes of North Platte; George A. Allread; Edward E. Conner; John J. Grier; Maurice E. Grier; Joseph F. Gross; George N. Johnson; Robert H. Sander; M. Tishon; Aramovich.

Dr. Webster, a Lincoln native, graduated from the Rush University Medical School in Chicago in 1942. He specializes in orthopedic surgery.

He has practiced in Lincoln since 1949. Dr. Webster is married and has three children. He is a graduate of Lincoln High School and the University of Nebraska.

The American College of Surgeons was founded in 1913 to establish standards of competency and character for specialists in surgery. It has grown from a membership of 450 to 18,000.

Fellowship is awarded to doctors who fulfill specific requirements for acceptable medical education and advanced training; as a specialist in one of the branches of surgery and who “have evidence of good moral character and ethical practice,” the ACS said.

Shell Barrage Keeps Firemen Back 4 Hours

Big Munitions Carrier Rams Into Passenger Car; Heart Attack Kills One Man

73 EXPLOSIONS COUNTED

OMAHA (AP)—Three persons were killed and two injured Friday night when an ammunition truck rammed a passenger car touching off a fire and a series of explosions about 10 miles west of here.

Exploding 105 millimeter shells kept firemen away from the blazing vehicles for almost four hours after the collision. When they were able to reach them the firemen recovered three bodies burned beyond recognition.

The three were presumed to be the Misses Laura and Theo McClaskey of Geneva, Ill., and Mrs. Harrie Paige, 65, of Omaha, sisters. They had previously been identified as occupants of the car along with Mrs. Helen McClaskey, 60, of Edmunds, Wash., who escaped. She told a reporter the last she saw of the others they were in the car.

Seventy-three explosions were counted.

The co-owner of an inn adjacent to the explosion died of a heart attack shortly afterward.

Chester J. Dagerman, co-owner of the Ten Mile Inn, which is located beside the highway at the point where the collision and fire occurred, was stricken with a heart attack and died shortly afterward.

Miss Laura McClaskey was 60, Miss Theo 73. They left Geneva eight days ago for the trip to Omaha.

A third car was reported involved but indications were its occupants were unhurt.

Col. Walter J. Seely, commanding officer of the Nebraska Ordnance Plant at Wahoo, Neb., said there were “512 rounds of 105 millimeter shells in the truck. They were completed with primers and seven powder bags per shell.”

He said the collision apparently ignited the truck's gas tanks and the “fire apparently got hot enough to set aflame everything in the truck... this heat started the shells bursting.”

Hospital attendants said Miss McClaskey and Lawrence Davis, Omaha, driver of the truck, were brought in for treatment but neither appeared seriously injured.

Went Into Ditch

Chief Deputy County Attorney Robert McGowan said the four women were returning from a visit to Mrs. Paige's daughter at Plattville Center, Neb., when the collision occurred.

Both vehicles went off the right side of the road into the ditch and caught fire. He said he did not know how soon the explosions started.

McGowan said Miss McClaskey and Davis managed to crawl out of their respective vehicles but “as far as we know” Miss McClaskey was the only one that got out of the passenger car. The Safety Patrol “has not been able to account for” the other three women, he added.

McGowan said Davis, 29, told him the car in front slowed up and he pulled to the right to avoid it. A reporter earlier said Davis reported he was “going about 50 miles an hour when my truck hit the rear of the car. I don't know how I got out of the cab.”

McGowan said both Davis and Miss McClaskey told him the flames started before the vehicles came to a stop.

Highway 30A and 275, a four-lane strip of highway carrying heavy traffic through Omaha, was blocked off for a mile on either side of the wreck scene and residents in the vicinity of the scene were evacuated because of the danger from the explosions.

James Breeling said he and “several hundred” others were trapped at the scene by the explosions, apparently artillery shells.

Key witnesses, who lives about 130 yards from the scene said a “streak of fire” flashed from the road to the truck. He said his house was frequently hit by shrapnel during the explosion.

Breeling said one fragment flew past about 10 feet from the tree behind which he had taken shelter. He said it was at least two feet long and looked like half a shell. About 2½ hours after the collision the frequency of the explosions began to diminish.

Bobby Greenlease Buried; Kidnapers Waive Hearing

Heady, Hall Make First Court Appearance; Extortion Charged

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Little Bobby Greenlease was buried Friday in a silver plated casket while authorities made the first moves to bring his confessed kidnapers here to meet a possible death penalty.

Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, the alcoholic divorcee who took the 6-year-old boy from his private school to his death, and her boy friend, Carl Austin Hall, 34, who engineered the kidnaping, made their first appearance in court in St. Louis.

They waived a hearing on a federal charge of extorting $600,000 from Bobby's wealthy father, Robert C. Greenlease.

But this was a relatively minor charge against the drunken pair arrested last Wednesday in St. Louis with $300,000 of the kidnap money, and was filed as a means of holding them while authorities prepared their case.

Hall and Mrs. Heady, whose flower garden yielded up the lime-covered body of the little boy, both face state kidnap charges here and murder charges in St. Joseph. Both murder and kidnaping are punishable by death in Missouri.

After the hearing in St. Louis, Harry Richards, U. S. district attorney said Hall and Mrs. Heady would be returned to Kansas City, still in federal custody. Mrs. Heady's attorney, William Rosenthal, said he understood the trip here would be made Friday.

Richards said the federal government would retain custody until written instructions were received from Washington, where Attorney General Brownell announced Thursday that the Department of Justice would turn over Hall and Mrs. Heady to state authorities for prosecution.

At Kansas City a few curious gathered around the county courthouse, in which the pair would be jailed, during the afternoon but all had dispersed by nightfall. Deputy Sheriff Robert Poynter reported, Poynter said when the two are brought here they will be lodged in single cells as "we always take all precautions with such prisoners."

Hall, the playboy who squandered $200,000, spoke not a word at the hearing Friday. Rosenthal, who represented only Mrs. Heady, said he had informed Hall of his rights. Hall has admitted he planned the kidnaping of the boy but denies doggedly that he shot him to death. The actual killing he blames on Thomas Marsh, 37, another ex-convict, to whom he says he gave Bobby shortly after Mrs. Heady whisked him away from the French Institute of Notre Dame de Sion on Sept. 26.

But there is serious doubt that Marsh even was implicated in the plot. Mrs. Heady's fingerprints have been found on the extortion notes, the FBI says. And although a federal warrant for unlawful flight to escape a murder charge has been issued, the FBI insists it has ordered no nationwide alert for Marsh's arrest.

At the same hour that his kidnapers were being arraigned across the state in St. Louis, the body of Bobby Greenlease, who went along "so sweet and nice" with the woman who posed as his aunt, lay in St. Agnes Catholic Church in suburban Fairway, Kan.

The Mass of the Angels for little children was said as the body lay in the casket before the altar which was decorated in white.

The casket, made of bronze and plated with silver was of simple design. There was only a small decorative design on the top. It was not opened during the service.

Archbishop Edward J. Hunkeler of Kansas City, Kan., diocese, who presided, said:

"If Christ suffered, ye also must. The just are in the hands of God and torment cannot touch them."

Speaking to the family, he said of Bobby:

"His soul was blessed by God, therefore, he has hastened to take it away."

Sorghum Crop Drop Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department Friday estimated this year's production of sorghum grain at 114,600,000 bushels, about 5 per cent less than its crop forecast of a month ago.

The indicated production for Nebraska was 1,716,000 bushels (2,231,000 in 1952) and Kansas, 27,840,000 (18,536,000 in 1952). This optional production total would be 38 per cent more than the very small 1952 crop but 17 per cent less than the 10-year average production.

Yield prospects, the department's crop report said, declined during September in most of the important sorghum producing states, except Kansas. Average yield was indicated at 16.7 bushels an acre or nearly a bushel below the Sept. 1 estimate.

Temperance Meet Elects V. Parrish

Francis Parrish was elected president of the first local chapter in Nebraska of the Temperance and Tolerance Association of America.

Other officers include George A. McKay, vice president; Marie Phillips, secretary; and Edna Lewis, treasurer.

The Temperance and Tolerance Association, founded in 1946 by Lincolnite Mrs. Ida M. Thurber, has its national headquarters in here. Mrs. Thurber is national president.

The association has more than 70,000 members in the U. S., Alaska, Canada, and Hawaii. However, a program of establishing local chapters was only recently inaugurated, Mrs. Thurber said.

The Temperance and Tolerance Association is an anti-prohibition organization believing that education and environment are better methods to curb the use of alcohol, the national president explained.

No Inquest Is Slated In Road Fatality Here

County Attorney Frederick Wagner said Friday no inquest would be held in the death of Andrew Anderson, 78, of Minneapolis, Minn., who died when hit by a car Friday on the Cornhusker Highway.

The accident took place at 55th and the Cornhusker Highway shortly before noon. Deputy Sheriff Mark Meyer termed the death accidental.

Mr. Anderson, after getting out of a car driven by his brother, Anton, of Omaha, had walked behind the car and started across the highway near the Skyline Cafe. The car was headed west.

An eastbound car, driven by Richard A. Tyrrell, 19, of Rt. 1, Waverly, was unable to stop and struck Anderson, who, witnesses said, had hesitated before trying to get across.

Witness Frank Dutcher, a painter working on a new service station to which Anderson was headed, said the driver of the car had not been going at a high rate of speed, and that he had attempted to stop, but didn't have time.

Anderson was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

The fatality occurred outside the city limits.

Anderson's brother, Anton, said the two had stopped the car in order to ask directions for the main road leading into Lincoln.

Mr. Anderson, a widower, will be buried in Rockwell City, Ia. Other survivors include five sons, Edward of Minneapolis, Roy of Silverdale, Wash.; Donald of Yakima, Wash.; and Arthur; and two daughters, Josephine and Ruby.

Anderson's death raised the state highway death toll to 242, compared to 263 a year ago.

Niobrara Basin Plan Is Argued

AINSWORTH, Neb. (AP)—A five-member congressional subcommittee sat in a packed auditorium for 2½ hours Friday while proponents and opponents of the proposed Niobrara basin development plan aired their views.

Chief targets of the opponents of the program were the proposed Merritt Reservoir 16 miles south and 16 miles west of Valentine and the 52-mile long canal to deliver impounded Snake River water to the rich farm valley adjoining Ainsworth.

About 400 persons attended the hearing including a closely knit bloc of 50 Cherry County ranchers, all opposed to the scheme. The hearing was called by Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) of Kimball, chairman of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. Rep. William H. Harrison (R-Wyo.) subcommittee chairman, presided at the hearing. Other congressmen present were: Wesley D'Ewart (R-Mont.), E. Y. Berry (R-SD) and Wayne Aspinwall (D-Colo.).

'Soll Forgets'

Both sides were represented by well-known Nebraskans. Proponents were guided by William C. Smith Jr., Ainsworth, attorney for the Ainsworth Irrigation District, and Lynn Heth, Valentine, attorney for the Cherry County rancher delegation.

Enthusiasts for the Ainsworth project and overall development of the basin came from most communities along the Niobrara as far east as O'Neill and Niobrara.

Dr. A. L. Lugin, consultant geologist at the University of Nebraska for the last 27 years and Sam McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska and a long-time Cherry County rancher until his recent retirement, were principal opposition speakers.

Dr. Lugin contended the soil at the site of the proposed Merritt Reservoir is "porous and permeable." He told the congressmen he seriously questioned whether the reservoir could contain 70,000 acre feet of impounded water without exorbitant seepage. He conceded the Snake River contained sufficient water, but said he was willing to "risk my reputation" that the seepage from the reservoir and canal would render them impractical. He also gave the congressmen a brief sketch of the geological formation of the sandhills.

McKelvie delivered a spirited appeal in behalf of "God's cow country." He declared that the proposed reservoir and canal would be a forerunner of others with the result that ranches and grass hills many miles distant from the Ainsworth Canal would be "adversely affected." He also contended that seepage would ruin meadows within close proximity to the works.

J. Kullberg Rites Set For Tuesday

Funeral services for John F. Kullberg, 79, of 1138 No. 28th, will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Smith Funeral Home in Concordia, Kan. Burial will be at Concordia.

Mr. Kullberg, a retired farmer, died Friday.

A native of Sweden, he came to the United States when he was 11. He moved to Lincoln in 1938 from Concordia where he had farmed. Mr. Kullberg celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1950.

He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Surviving are his wife, Ida; one son, Allen of Chicago; three daughters, Mrs. Dena Paul of Lincoln; Mrs. Ethel Holly and Mrs. Alice Mintz, both of Lakeland, Fla.; a sister in Sweden, and five grandchildren.

The family will meet friends between 7 and 9 p.m. Saturday at Helmsdoerfers.

Negotiations Start With Rock Island To Open P Street

Negotiations are under way between the city and the Rock Island Railroad for the opening of P across the Rock Island tracks at 20th.

Attorney Guy C. Chambers, following a meeting with City Attorney John H. Comstock, said he has been authorized by the city to negotiate with the railroad for the opening.

Chambers declined to comment on whatever proposals he made to the city through Comstock.

Comstock, likewise, declined any detailed comment but stated he felt "some definite progress has been made. There are points of agreement to be reached by both sides."

Comstock will report to the City Council Tuesday on his conference with Chambers. Comment at this time on the possibility of the opening, said Comstock, would be premature.

Also, he said, the final decisions must be made by the Council and the railroad.

Accused Betrayers Of Dean Go To Trial Soon

SEOUL (Saturday) (INS)—The Korean National Police announced Friday that trial will begin next week for the two South Koreans charged with betraying Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to the Communists in August of 1950. Dean in a message from America asked clemency for the two men, charged with delivering him to the Communists who kept him imprisoned more than three years.

New Airport At Valentine Is Dedicated

'One Of State's Best,' Air Tour Makes Stop

VALENTINE, Neb. (AP)—Valentine's new $50,000 airport was dedicated Friday as the 100 planes of the statewide air tour made an afternoon stop in this Sandhills city.

James D. Ramsey, director of the State Department of Aeronautics, described the new airport as one of the best in Nebraska. It is equipped with a beacon and landing lights, and it is estimated that between 50 and 75 planes land and take off there each week.

The airport was started nearly two years ago and Friday's dedication marks completion of the project. Municipal, state and federal funds were involved in the airport project.

The planes on the air tour took off in mid-afternoon bound for O'Neill—the next stop on their flight over Nebraska commemorating the golden anniversary of powered flight.

The flying group will stop in Columbus, Fremont, Lincoln, Beatrice and Omaha Saturday.

FSA Will Discuss Full-Time Director

The Family Service Association will discuss the employment of a permanent director at their next regular meeting.

The board of directors, meeting Friday noon at the Cornhusker Hotel, heard a preliminary report on the hiring of a new director from Louis Finckelstein, vice-chairman of the personnel committee.

An additional report will be made at the next board meeting.

James Tisdale, treasurer, reported that the agency's disbursements for September were $2,620 and the total for the first months, $28,044.

Acting director of the agency, Mrs. Ada S. Westover, reported an increase applications for service—from 21 in August to 32 in September. A total of 91 adults and 29 children were given individualized casework services.

She also announced that District 3 of the Nebraska State Nurses Association has asked Family Service to serve on the advisory committee on practical nurse education.

News Around The Globe

Formosans At 'High Strength'

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—The U.S. General who trains Nationalist China's armed forces said Saturday they had reached "a high degree of strength" which "must be sobering to our enemies."

On this national independence day, Gen. William C. Chase told a mammoth rally that "you have traveled far along the road back"—meaning the road back to the mainland.

With President Chiang Kai-shek he reviewed the crack 52nd army. It marched through past Nationalist headquarters while jet fighters of the rebuilding Chinese air force flashed by overhead. "I have reason to believe," said the head of the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group, "that within the next few months much more fighting equipment will arrive, including fighting ships, heavy artillery and more jet-type aircraft."

No Future Warned

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told legislative representatives of 32 nations Friday civilization has no future if the battleground replaces the conference table in the settlement of disputes.

In an address of welcome at the opening session of the 42nd annual conference of the Inter-parliamentary Union, the President said he "often wondered why it is so difficult for nations to reach the kind of accord in peace they were forced to reach in war."

Adenauer Elected

BONN, Germany (AP)—Dr. Konrad Adenauer was elected chancellor of West Germany Friday for another four years. He immediately predicted "a fresh wind" will blow through stagnated European problems.

By an overwhelming 304-148 vote, the Bundestag (lower house) put the stern, 77-year-old Christian Democrat back in office with the biggest backing any Democratic chancellor has ever received in German history.

Yugoslavia Asks U.S., Britain To Give Up Trieste Plan

Foothold For Italy Charged

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslavia demanded Friday night that the United States and Britain give up their plan to turn over to Italy the administration of the Allied zone of Trieste.

A formal note to the U. S. and British governments protested that their decision — involving withdrawal of their occupation troops from Zone A of the 320-square-mile Free Territory, including the port of Trieste — would give "Italian expansionism . . . a bridgehead on the Yugoslav shore of the Adriatic."

"The Yugoslav government demands that the decision should not be carried out," the note said bluntly. President Marshal Tito's regime reserved the right to "use appropriate means — on the basis of the United Nations Charter — to protect the interests of Yugoslavia in the Trieste area."

Claim Treaty Violation

It did not specify what those steps might be, but declared that the transfer would mean violation of the Italian Peace Treaty of 1947 and would be "an unjust and dangerous act."

(A dispatch from the port of Trieste said the Yugoslavs had closed the border between Zone A and Yugoslav-occupied Zone B and Tito's troops were reported moving toward the border. A party of 40 Italians who returned by bus from the port of Capodistria said troops and tanks were heading up from the southern part of the zone. At one point, they said, they counted 40 tanks.)

British ambassador Sir Ivo Mallet and U.S. Charge d'Affaires Woodruff Wallner were summoned to the Yugoslav Foreign Office to receive the note. They were escorted through a heavy police cordon set up for blocks around their embassies and the Italian Legation to prevent a recurrence of the damage done to the properties by window-smashing mobs Thursday night, an incident for which Yugoslavia has apologized.

Street demonstrations continued Friday night, despite a drizzling rain. Paraders shouted: "We will give up our lives, but we will never surrender Trieste."

Rites For George M. Megee Monday

Funeral services for George M. Megee, 91, of 1621 So. 11th, will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at Umberger's chapel. The Rev. Adrian J. Edgar of Norfolk will officiate.

Mr. Megee, a native of Sparta, Wis., died Friday. He came to Lincoln in 1887 and operated a dairy farm near town until seven years ago when he moved into Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Megee celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary in July.

He was a member of Lincoln Heights Methodist Church and Modern Woodmen Camp 906.

Surviving are his wife, Rosina Grace; one son, Clarence of Burlington, Wash.; four daughters, Mrs. Bessie Williamson of Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Bertha Fuller, Mrs. Clara Boomer and Mrs. Gladys Speidel, all of Lincoln; 11 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren.

Something And Nothing

Visiting in rural areas of Nebraska, Sen. Dwight Griswold reports that his soundings reveal wide differences of opinion on details of a farm program but general agreement almost unanimously in favor of farm price supports.

What he means, of course, is effective farm price supports—possibly on the basis of 90 per cent of parity. It is not surprising that in the complexity and the variety of farm programs in an agricultural state of the character of Nebraska there should be differences of opinion. Certainly the corn producer has a different outlook than the cattle feeder, who buys corn to fatten cattle later to be sold for a profit.

There is a great deal of difference between what Sen. Griswold discusses and the emphasis of farm discussion by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. Mr. Benson talks infinitely more about new uses for farm products and new markets for farm commodities. The farmer isn't passing up any market now available to him—lives in constant hope of an expanding market for what he produces—but he knows full well that he can't continue in business on hot air. There is nothing in much that Mr. Benson says—nothing that hasn't been hashed over again and again—possibly nothing quite as tangible as the increased market for farm commodities which is to be anticipated over the years as a result of increasing population.

What Sen. Griswold discovered is that the farmer of Nebraska is not quite ready to toss away something—something helpful and tangible—for nothing.

Successor To Taft

It comes as a surprise to discover a capable, seasoned, and mature Washington newspaperman of the stature of Joe Harsch of the staff of the Christian Science Monitor putting it down on the line that the biggest political issue of the next Congress will be to determine who will exercise the power which was held, and exercised, in the last Congress by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

"Future policies of the United States, both domestic and foreign," Mr. Harsch wrote, "will largely be shaped by the outcome of the issue, because there is a substantial divergence of inclination in both areas between the senatorial group and the White House."

Just one big happy family!

No, not one—and not happy with each other—by a long city block. The Republicans used to get a great deal of glee out of baiting the Democrats in the split between the conservative South and the liberal North wings of the Democratic Party. Even then an equally grave difference existed between elements within the Republican Party. It was not of importance then because the Republicans were on the outside looking in—the Democrats on the inside looking out. It is important now because the positions have been reversed. Responsibility for the formulation of policy and for action under that program of policy now becomes the Republicans' hairshirt.

In a practical atmosphere, it gets down to this. Of the 15 chairmen of the standing committees of the United States Senate, most of the 15 were for Taft, not Eisenhower, before Chicago. These chairmen represent the Taft, not the Eisenhower, wing of the Republican Party. It has been proposed by Indiana's Sen. Homer E. Capehart that the Republican Policy Committee be reorganized to include the 15 chairmen. President Eisenhower, Harsch says, hasn't the slightest intention of allowing this development to happen. The majority of the members of the chairmen bloc in the Senate do not represent what the President regards as the political "middle of the road." In the foreign field, most of them are on the "nationalist side." In domestic policy, most are to the right of his own and of his pre-Chicago supporters.

In the Senate the President has Nixon and Knowland to help him out. He may wish for more if Sen. Joe McCarthy gets the notion he is going places.

Of Men And Things

Shed one huge, salty tear for the tough assignment which befalls any ambassador of good will in this tight little world today. In beautiful Honolulu, land of haunting music and exotic flowers, Vice President Richard Nixon was turning on the charm. From this distance it appears that he may have opened his mouth with a broad smile and stuck his foot in it.

Addressing a luncheon audience, Mr. Nixon must have brought joy to many thousands of Hawaiians when he predicted that Congress will pass a Hawaiian statehood bill at its next session under President Eisenhower's sponsorship.

Then he added that statehood for Alaska is "a different issue" and declared that if "Alaska is tied to Hawaiian statehood, you can be sure Hawaiian statehood will be killed." Alaska, true, is far to the north on the North American mainland, thousands of miles from Hawaii offshore in the Pacific, a different land in its proximity to the cold of the Arctic. Alaska, it is true, was bought and paid for by the United States, another of Uncle Sam's shrewd real estate deals, to settle for all time because of Alaska's proximity to Russian soil the danger of any threat of Russian aggression.

Not too many years ago while browsing around on an island off the Pacific coast, we came upon the story of a Russian settlement, ultimately obliterated, midway between Alaska and the American border, a settlement in the lonely mountains and woods north of the Fraser River in British Columbia. We never knew whether that tiny settlement was fact or folklore, whether the Russians actually planned to establish a beachhead in North America, only to see it disappear when it was assimilated by a hardy Indian tribe. All we know is that a great many Americans are confused by a Republican opposition headed up by Nebraska's senior senator, Hugh Butler, to Alaskan statehood while looking with favor upon Hawaiian statehood. Alaska is a part of the mainland—Hawaii is 2,500 miles off the California coast. Both should gain statehood—both political parties repeatedly have approved planks favoring statehood for both Alaska and Hawaii.

Alaska votes in the Democratic Party tradition, although at the last election the Republicans made significant gains in that territory. Hawaii generally votes Republican. There has been a long record of partisanship entering into statehood matters, an unfortunate and regrettable record, it would seem. Only a tiny strip of water separates Siberia (Russia) from Alaska soil. In Washington military men in the Pentagon and others concerned with national security have given long, careful study to what is known to the public as the Lincoln Project for a radar curtain in the Arctic to provide defense for key American industrial centers against air attack. Yet in the next breath we seem to say that Alaska, with a population five times more than that which Nebraska had on the occasion of Nebraska's admission to statehood, excluding Indians, is unfit for statehood. Its tax system is not acceptable. There are a lot of Nebraskans today who find fault with the tax system of a state which before too many years will celebrate the centennial of its statehood.

Our energetic, hand-shaking, smiling, handsome ambassador of good will may have known what he was talking about when he spilled some words to bring joy to the people of Hawaii and gloom to the people of Alaska. Why he should have brought Alaska into a discussion before a Hawaiian gathering is confusing, at best. Our 'good will' boy may have been guilty of a 'bender.'

High Cost Of Living Lowers Army Morale.

WASHINGTON—Secretary of State Dulles has clamped such a strict censorship on news from Korea that the American public doesn't realize the dangers of sliding up in that country again.

Uncensored military dispatches report 35 Red airfields have been built in North Korea since the armistice. All are in violation of truce agreement.

In addition 800 Red jets have been smuggled into North Korea from China since the truce.

Dulles has hushed all this up, was even responsible for the order which prohibited the Korean pilot who flew the Russian MIG to Seoul from telling what airfield he took off from. Reason the name was censored was because the airfield didn't even exist before the truce.

Dulles' private explanation for the censorship is fear of upsetting the forthcoming political conference. Dulles is desperately and understandably anxious to get the Russians to sit down at the conference table, and if the Reds are too much embarrassed by revelations of their buildup, he's afraid they will sabotage the talks before they even begin.

BOHLEN'S MYSTERY TRIP

Ambassador Chipp Bohlen, whose appointment as envoy to Russia was so bitterly opposed by Sen. McCarthy, was summoned back to Washington for conference during the McCarthy wedding.

Paul Porter, lanky ex-chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, bumped into Bohlen, asked why he was home. "I haven't the vaguest idea," replied the ambassador. "They telegraphed me to fly back, but now that I'm here I don't know why they wanted me."

"Perhaps," remarked Porter, "they wanted you to serve as best man at Joe McCarthy's wedding."

ARMY MORALE SUFFERS

A gruff, tough master sergeant, who has fought in two wars, called this column the other day to complain about the "raw deal" servicemen are getting. Before he could finish, his voice choked.

What he was trying to say was that he couldn't make ends meet and support his family. He was both proud and embarrassed, which was probably why he choked up. He had been in the Army for years, but couldn't figure any way out except to give up his Army career.

After he hung up, this column began investigating Army living standards, found other hard-bitten soldiers in the same boat. Another master sergeant with five kids and 20 years' service said he was already looking for a civilian job. A staff sergeant claimed his food bill would shoot up one-third, completely out of reach of his meager budget, if Secretary of Defense Wilson goes ahead with his plan to cut out commissary privileges. A chaplain admitted gravely that the morale of the noncoms—the backbone of the Army—is worse than in the 'thirties.

Here are the reasons:

1. FOOD — The chain-store lobby has put the pressure on Congress and the Pentagon to close down commissaries, which sell food to G.I.s cheaper than the local supermarkets. Through such powerful senators as Bill Knowland of California and Willis Robertson of Virginia, the lobbyists got the Senate Appropriations Committee to slip a " rider" into the appropriations bill ordering the commissaries closed.

dering the Defense Department either to close the commissaries or turn them over to private management by Dec. 31. Now the pressure is on Wilson to shut them down altogether.

Simultaneously, the ration allowance for enlisted men has been dropped from $1.20 to $1.10 per day, and the cost of meals at field messes has gone up, resulting in a monthly loss to most officers of $30 to $35.

2. HOUSING — Housing around Army posts is still below standard, yet the rent in many cases is exorbitant. Theoretically, rent control is still supposed to be in effect around 24 congested military posts, but Congress furnished only $60,000 to enforce these rent ceilings — barely enough to pay for eight offices to cover 24 areas.
3. PAY — Last year, the cost of living shot up over 12 per cent, while the military got an approximate 4 per cent pay raise. Meanwhile, extra pay for overseas service has been eliminated, except for the meager bonus for enlisted men.
4. TRAVEL — The mileage allowance for servicemen has been cut from eight to six cents per mile. A reduction has also been made in the weight of household goods that the government will ship when a service family is transferred. Everything over the weight limit must be paid by the servicemen.
5. MEDICINE — The American Medical Association has started a campaign to cut out medical service for military dependents.

On top of all this, the Defense Department has just assigned each military post a quota to contribute to local charities. The only way the quotas can be met is to force shoddy contributions from the individual servicemen, who already have a good record for voluntary contributions. For example, the G.I.s have donated $13,000,000 from their slim wages to help rebuild devastated Korea. These are the facts that have made morale among Army noncoms the lowest in years.

Credit Judge Thurman Arnold with a belated but final triumph against the giant General Electric Company in the recent judicial decree requiring GE to dedicate its incandescent light patents to the public. Arnold began this court action 12 years ago, when he was head of the Justice Department's antitrust division. Finally last week it bore fruit. Herbert Brownell isn't going to be fazed by big liquor politicians. During the 1948 campaign Schenley's Distributors, betting on Dewey as a certain winner, hired Brownell, his campaign manager, as its counsel. Dewey lost, and Brownell didn't become attorney general until four years later. Despite the Schenley retainer, Brownell last week ordered a wide-scale probe of monopoly in the liquor industry, including his old client, Schenley.

FARM CHAFF

The public's recent loss of interest in odor-killing chlorophyll is a blow to some farmers who planted heavy stands of alfalfa. It takes a ton of alfalfa to make a few pounds of the green odor-killer. Now that the novelty has worn off, chlorophyll output has been drastically cut. . . . U.S. cotton textile exports have dropped 14 per cent below last year. Last year the U.S. was the world's leading exporter of cotton textiles. Today we trail Japan and England. India, in fourth place, is close behind us.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

Along with reports of grass being sowed in some sections due to drought, observers state that there is a "burning" that gives promise of starting a conflagration in the vaunted "grass roots" of the Republican party.

While a doctored state central committee jumped at the crack of the whip of the clique of party "top brass" at the Arch Donovan meeting, other versions are being given of the views of the "water boys" for the elephant.

"The 'woolies' that yap at the heels of a losing football coach are only lambs compared with the growing tide of discontent against the present GOP leadership," one veteran party worker reported on a visit to the state-house.

He predicted that Mrs. Eva Bowring, vice chairman, would be the only party head not led to the guillotine. Before the month is over, he insisted, a meeting will be held to launch plans for a "housecleaning" in the party top command.

No names were mentioned as to who would succeed to the top posts. But it is recalled that Max Denney, administrative assistant to the governor, recently sought to unseat Dave Martin as chairman.

Denney will retire from his present job next month and be free to express his own views. He could possibly win support of the disgruntled party stalwarts. If he still retains leadership of the "young Turks" who aided him in his last revolt, he could be a dangerous contender.

After the executive committee meeting following the state convention in Kearney, members freely admitted that Martin had given a wrong picture that he did not again be a candidate for the post.

This and his recent statement that because of opposition of a small group he had decided to continue in the office is causing some hackles to rise.

A large number of party workers express the view that the chairmanship is a decision to be made by party members, not a post to be held at the whim of the chairman.

The decision to hold a pre-primary convention after it lost all legal status by action of the last Legislature is also causing some trumpeting by the aroused elephant.

"Demand for the convention by Martin is merely bringing a local Kearney fight into statewide prominence," one prominent Republican, who asked not to be named, explained.

Martin and Sen. W. J. Williams, who introduced the bill to abolish pre-primaries, are known to differ greatly in party politics. Add to this the fact that Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff was co-signer and spoke at length for the bill, which party leaders opposed, and you have the makings of a grand hassle.

It has just come to light that Mrs. Harold Prince of Grand Island, former member of the Board of Control, is one of those persons who just cannot help making news.

On a summer trip to San Francisco in typical tourist fashion, she insisted on riding the famous cable cars to the top of Knob Hill. The lurching car in which she clung precariously to a strap caused her to lose her balance.

Her purse jammed with items picked up on the trip fell to the floor and the contents spilled. Her hat blew outside the car. As she was repacking the purse, the gripman, noted for their service to customers, halted the car and retrieved her hat.

He returned it with the request, "Lady, don't let it blow off again. I'm too tired today to provide atmosphere."

The next morning in a column in a local newspaper, the incident was related pointing out that it had happened to a "midwestern tourist."

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Savior, teach me, day by day
Love's sweet message to obey;
Sweeter lessons cannot be,
Loving Him who first loved me.

How shall I my life employ?
Love will be my only joy.
Ever new that joy will be,
Loving Him who first loved me.

Teach me, Lord, Thy steps to know,
By the way which Thou didst go;
Ever keeping close to Thee,
Loving Him who first loved me.

So will I rejoice to show
All the love I feel and owe;
Ever serving, ever free,
Loving Him who first loved me.

By HORACE B. POWELL

How poor the world would be without its hymns for children! Fortunately, for all of us, writers of religious songs down through the years have found time to turn out a rich collection of hymns for little people and many of these have become so famous and so well-loved that today they are used as often and as widely in adult worship as in Sunday School.

"Saviour, Teach Me Day By Day" was penned by Jane Elizabeth Leeson, an English woman who loved to write religious poems for boys and girls of the early nineteenth century. Its message was inspired by a Bible verse, I John 4:19: "We love Him because He first loved us."

The hymn-poem shown here is shorter than the original which had four eight-line stanzas. The original hymn made its bow to the public in Miss Leeson's "Hymns And Scenes Of Childhood," published in London in 1842. This volume was followed in 1848 by another entitled "Songs Of Christian Chivalry," and in 1849 by "The Child's Book Of Ballads."

The Two Sides

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The oracles have spoken. Chairman Martin's report is at last before us. Subsequently he was told that the "two-cam" if adopted would do right well for the party (90 more offices!). And Sen. Carmody speaking for the "other side," the incumbents, tells us that it is from the present legislature form that our state leadership, such as it is, sprang. He does not, however, evaluate the leadership within the recent bodies. He does not seem to be aware that by leadership it is meant the capacity to integrate solutions to our vexing problems.

Thus we have the two sides. But between two sides of a thing, there must always be the object itself; in this case, the great one million, the people of Nebraska — the farmers, the self-employed, the industrially employed, the very small enterprisers, the aged and the youth. Who will give their opinion unless they speak up and write in for themselves?

And for a start, here is one who hopes for the retention of the "one-cam" but allows for enrichments to be built in—yes, checks and balances such as adding 25 senators, five of whom to be chosen at large; no senator to succeed himself more than once; some degree of party endorsement allowed; and 20 of the senators to come in under party proportion. No thinking American nowadays should belittle the worth of the two-party habit. It saved us many a time. But there is such a thing as overdoing party participation in an intermediate body like a state legislature. Let us hear from the folk within the sides.

New Water Supply

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The advisory committee on the water situation has made its report to the City Council and they are preparing to sell the bonds. The report says that we won't get any additional water next year. Why? Because there is too much talk and too little action. The piping to Ashland should be let in sections, with finish dates barring bad weather conditions. What we need is less talk and more action, and we can get the water.

Nancy Remington, A Saturday Bride

MISS JEAN MARIE ZEHRUNG, who will become the bride of John Stewart Hays at St. Mary's Cathedral Saturday noon, Oct. 10.

Arrangements of chrysanthemums and pom poms, in autumn shades, will appoint the altar and the chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral for the wedding of Miss Nancy Louise Remington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin B. Remington, and Lawrence Alan Connealy, son of Mrs. Arch Connealy of Cozad, and the late Mr. Connealy, which will take place at a 10 o'clock ceremony this morning. The Msgr. C. J. Riordan will solemnize the service, and the wedding music will be played by Miss Catherine Gillespie. Miss Gillespie also will accompany Miss Marie Jackson who will sing "Panis Angelicus" preceding the reading of the lines.

Miss Toni Nelson, as the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. William Becker, will appear in alike frocks of mist green taffeta and lace. The bodices, snugly fitted, have deep portrait necklines that slip in to softly shirred brief sleeves, and beneath the belted waistlines the wide, danseuse-length skirts are given accentuated fullness with overskirts of delicate lace. Miss Susan Connealy, the junior bridesmaid, will wear a long-skirted frock of green taffeta. Each of the attendants will carry an empire bouquet of bronze-toned chrysanthemums. The candles will be lighted by Mrs. William Misko and Mrs. Curtis Weatherhogg. Frank Piccolo will serve Mr. Connealy as best man, and seating the guests will be

MISS NANCY REMINGTON, whose marriage to Lawrence Connealy will be solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral this morning.

Richard Remington, brother of the bride; Curtis Weatherhogg and R. J. Mapes.

The bride has chosen a gown of Rosepoint lace and sheer net over satin for her wedding. The strapless lace-over-satin bodice is snugly fitted under a long-sleeved, waist-length lace jacket which has a front closing of minute self-fabric buttons beneath a portrait neckline contoured with natural lace scallops. The full, formal-length skirt of lace over satin, is designed with a front pleatum of the lace that extends into hem-length panels at the sides. Her double-tiered veil of imported English illusion is fingertip length, and is held to the head with lace cap ornamented with an applique of tube petals, and seed pearls. She will carry a white Bible, marked with a bronze orchid.

Following the reception, to be held in the church parlors, Mr. Connealy and his bride will leave for a honeymoon trip to Colorado. For traveling the bride will wear a three-piece suit of charcoal gray wool, with matching accessories. Upon their return to Lincoln the couple will reside at 1045 E street.

Miss Remington attended the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Connealy, also a former student at the University of Nebraska, is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

Planes In From Rome

Plane-ing in from Rome, Italy on Thursday was Mrs. Joseph Guiffre who will spend a brief period with her cousin, Mrs. Ralph McGoogan and Dr. McGoogan before going on to Los Angeles to join her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Terry. Mrs. Guiffre returns to the states after two years in Italy with the State Department.

To Be Morning Bride

Miss Jean Marie Zehrung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alpha H. Zehrung, will become the bride of John Stewart Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hays of Omaha, at a high noon ceremony, Saturday, Oct. 10. White cathedral candles burning in bronze candelabra, and tall arrangements of chrysanthemums shading from gold to deep bronze, will appoint the chancel of St. Mary's Cathedral for the service, which will be solemnized by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. C. J. Riordan and Father Conrad Marrama.

Mrs. Harry Ward Hakes of Dana, Ill., will be the matron of honor and will appear in a frock of pearl-toned opalescent taffeta. Softly draped sleeves and an Elizabethan fishnet accent the molded basque beneath which the wide skirt is caught into panels of fine pleating. Costumed identically in peacock blue opalescent taffeta will be the bridesmaid, Mrs. Paul Shannon, and the bridesmaid, Miss Priscilla Manning of Leigh. The attendants will wear taffeta bonnet brims and will carry crescents of gold and bronze chrysanthemums.

Miss Zehrung, who will be given in marriage by her father, has chosen candlelight satin for her wedding gown. A collar of French Chantilly lace, traced with seed pearls and opalescent beading, emphasizes the high throatline of the sculptured bodice which is closed down the front by a row of satin-covered buttons, and the sleeves are long and taper to bridal points over the hands. The skirt of unpressed pleats flares into fullness over a satin hoop and ends in a train, and a Mary, Queen of Scots, brim of pearl-trimmed lace will hold her illusion veil. She will carry a white prayer book ornamented with a fan of white roses and stephanotis.

Serving his brother as best man will be Richard H. Hays of Omaha, and seating the guests will be Richard Finnell and Robert Kretechmer of Omaha, Richard Fumboltz and Paul Shannon.

A former student at the University of Nebraska, Miss Zehrung is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority. Mr. Hays, a member of Delta Upsilon and Gamma Phi Sigma, is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and of the engineering department of Iowa State College, Ames, Ia. He has attended Omaha University and Columbia University in New York.

Beverly Blackwell Weds Ernest Keith Skalla

The marriage of Miss Beverly Anne Blackwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Blackwell of Council Bluffs, to Ernest Keith Skalla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Skalla of Beatrice, was solemnized at an 8 o'clock service on Friday evening, Oct. 9, at the First Christian Church in Council Bluffs. The Rev. Philip T. Durham, minister of First Christian, read the lines of the service.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Gordon L. Green, and the bridesmaids, Miss JoAnne Thomas of Seymour, Ind., Miss Jane Alstrope, Glenwood, Ia.; Miss Sally Jones, Bassett, Neb.; Miss Cathy Gilmore and Miss Eleanor Smith, were identical, floor-length, frocks of D'Or blue taffeta, and completed their costumes with matching hats. Beth Ann Blackwell was the flower girl, and the candles were lighted by Mrs. David Rose of Iowa City, Ia., and Miss Diana Merrill of Ida Grove, Ia.

John L. Skalla of Beatrice served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Bernard L. Skalla and Richard Bennett, both of Beatrice; Raymond Hindovich, Omaha; Robert W. Hasebrook, West Point, Neb.; and Hans M. Mathuesen, Grand Island, Neb. The bride chose a Talina original of imported Italian taffeta in the ivory tone, for her wedding. French lace, encrusted with pearls and sequins contoured the portrait neckline of the fitted bodice, and the beaded motif was repeated on the long, pointed sleeves.

Following the reception, held in the church parlors, Mr. Skalla and his bride left for a honeymoon at the Broadmoor, Colorado Springs, Colo., after which they will reside at 800 So. 16th street, Lincoln.

Mrs. Skalla is a graduate of William Woods college, Fulton, Mo., and now is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Skalla is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity of which he served as president.

MRS. ERNEST KEITH SKALLA, before her marriage on Friday evening, was Miss Beverly Anne Blackwell of Council Bluffs, Ia.

MISS LYLE MORSE whose marriage to Edwin Bruere takes place this morning in Omaha.

To Wed This Morning

Lighted cathedral candles and pink and white chrysanthemums will be arranged against a screen of greenery to appoint the chancel of All Saints Church, Episcopal, in Omaha where the wedding of Miss Lyle Nadine Morse, daughter of Mrs. R. H. Morse of Deadwood, S. D., and Edwin Worth Bruere, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bruere, also of Omaha, will take place at 10 o'clock this morning. The Rev. Mark D. McCallum, rector of All Saints, will solemnize the service, and the wedding music will be played by Cecil C. Neubecker, dean of the Nebraska Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

Wearing shell pink frocks of satin and lace, designed with snug bodices and flared skirts, will be Mrs. Dallas White of Hemingford, the matron of honor; Mrs. Lee Busboom, Dallas, Tex., and Mrs. Dale Stofertson, the bridesmaids. Their costumes will be completed with matching lace mitts and half-hats, and each will carry a colonial bouquet of shell pink carnations.

Wayne Birkholtz will serve Mr. Bruere as best man, and seating the guests will be Ted Cannon of Mitchell; Norman Zahn and Edward Gross. The bride, who will be escorted to the altar by her cousin, E. M. Hendrickson, who will give her in marriage, has chosen a gown of white lace and slipper satin for her wedding. The long-sleeved fitted bodice, designed with a yoke of illusion contoured with a motif of seed pearls, is fashioned of lace which extends in deep points to the neckline of the wide satin skirt that is finished with a cathedral train. A Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls, holds to the head her fingertip veil of bridal illusion.

A breakfast in the House and Gardens room at Hotel Blackstone will follow the ceremony, after which Mr. Bruere and his bride will leave for a honeymoon trip to New Orleans. The traveling ensemble is a gray costume suit with red velvet and black accessories. After Oct. 26, the couple will be at home in Omaha.

A former student at Nebraska Wesleyan university, Miss Morse was graduated from the University of Omaha. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority, and of Sigma Tau Delta, English honorary. Mr. Bruere attended Doane college, Crete, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Has Morning Wedding

JEANNE COSTELLO who becomes the bride of Robert Spale this morning at Blessed Sacrament Church.

For the wedding of Miss Jeanne Marie Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Vincent Costello, to Robert Louis Spale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Louis Spale of Clarkson, which will be an event of Saturday morning, Oct. 10, the chancel of Blessed Sacrament Church will be appointed with white chrysanthemums, arranged in pedestal urns, and the blossoms, caught with white satin ribbon dotted with greenery, are repeated to mark the white carpeted processional aisle. The 10 o'clock service will be solemnized by the Rt. Rev. A. J. Kraemer, rector of Blessed Sacrament.

Wearing identical frocks of velveteen and tulle in the Arcady blue tone will be Miss Nancy Costello, her sister's maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Shirley Vinson and Miss Carol King. The velveteen bodices, snugly closed in front with self-material buttons, had deep cameo necklines that widened into brief cap sleeves. The Pakistan influence is suggested in the skirts fashioned of double layers of tulle over taffeta. Their costumes are completed with frock-toned velveteen caps and mitts. Linda Sue Costello of Sioux City, Ia., will wear a hoop-skirted frock of white net.

Frank Spale of Clarkson will serve as best man, and the ushers will be Norman Kovanda, Gerald Davis and Raymond Wood.

The bride will appear in a gown of white Chantilly lace and net over satin. The long-sleeved bodice, with its throat-framing wing collar, is designed with a keyhole neckline, veiled with tulle, and a snugly fitted midriff. The bouffant skirt of net is paneled at each side with lace which is repeated to border the chapel train. A bonnet of shirred illusion holds in place her double-tiered fingertip veil of illusion, and she will carry a bouquet of white carnation and pink roses.

The couple will reside in Lawton, Okla., where the bridegroom is stationed with the army. Both are former students at the University of Nebraska.

Picnic Sunday

The members of Epsilon Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, and their families and guests will meet for their annual picnic at Seward on Sunday, October 11th. In charge of arrangements are Mrs. W. R. Bannmer, Miss Clara Rehn, and Mrs. Thomas Vance.

MISS ANNE KAMINSKI, whose marriage to Joseph Kalina will be solemnized Saturday morning at Sacred Heart Church.

The altar of Sacred Heart Church will be appointed with autumn-toned chrysanthemums, and lighted white candles, for the marriage of Miss Anne Kaminski, daughter of Mrs. H. F. Doerr and the late Edward S. Kaminski, to Joseph Kalina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kalina of Dwight, which will take place Saturday morning Oct. 10. The 10 o'clock ceremony will be solemnized by Father Edward Szechek in the presence of 75 guests.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant will be Miss Beverly Thompson who will wear a frock of emerald green satin designed in the colonial mode with a closely fitted bodice and full tulle overskirt. She will carry a bouquet of gold and russet chrysanthemums. Wearing green nylon net over taffeta will be the flower girl, Miss Terilyn Korinek, great-niece of the bridegroom.

Miss Kaminski, who will be given in marriage by her stepfather, H. F. Doerr, has chosen for her wedding a gown of white Chantilly-type lace. The sheer, drop-shoulder yoke is framed by the lace of the bodice embroidered with seed pearls and opalescent beading, and the sleeves are long and

The new officers were installed Friday afternoon following the closing session of the convention by Mrs. W. H. Hasebrook of West Point, General Federation music division chairman and past president of the Nebraska Federation.

Mrs. L. B. Dalton of Plattsmouth, outgoing president, presided at the Friday morning session at which time a talk on her recent travels to Pakistan and the near east was given by Mrs. Robert Simmons of Lincoln, guest speaker.

Under the direction of Mrs. Orville Nielsen of Plattsmouth, chairman of juniors in the district, the program included songs by the Peru Singers, directed by Darryl Manning, and by the Plattsmouth Junior Club ensemble. Soloist was Mrs. Hugh Stander of Plattsmouth.

A highlight of the two-day convention was the formal banquet held Thursday evening when the district members celebrated the 50th anniversary of first district federation. The golden anniversary theme formed the motif for the table decorations, and honored at the banquet were junior club members in the district. The newly-organized Lincoln Junior Woman's Club and the Louisville Junior Woman's Club were especially honored, and the banquet speaker was Mrs. Oscar Warp of Minden, state federation president.

Pittsburgh 14-Point Choice Over Huskers Today; Kitzelman, Oberlin Start

Lincoln Star Special
PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Pittsburgh's rugged Panthers were rated a 14-point favorite to defeat spasmotic Nebraska here today.

A homecoming crowd of 30,000 was expected to view the sectional game which starts at 12:30, CST. Clear, cool weather is predicted.

"Our squad is in the best shape of the season," commented Coach Red Dawson of Pittsburgh. "Our main trouble is that the boys are inclined to take Nebraska Saturday and look ahead to next Saturday's game with Notre Dame."

Notre Dame is anxious to avenge Pitt's 22-19 upset win of 1952.

"Our boys think they can win this one," countered Coach Bill Glassford of the Cornhuskers.

Glassford is throwing his heaviest team at the Panthers. He has moved 225-pound Max Kitzelman from tackle to guard, 200-pound Bob Oberlin to guard and inserted the 205-pound Ray Novak at fullback.

Kitzelman and Oberlin will replace Charley Bryant (180) and Don Glantz (190) as the guard starters.

Another lineup change lists

Sylvester Harris, Kansas City, Mo., sophomore replacing All-Big Seven Bill Schabacker at end. Schabacker has been slow regaining his 1952 form.

The Huskers will lose both the single wing and the T-formation at the Panthers who use the T.

At the end of the line will be Andy Leehr of Turtle Creek, Pa., whose father played for Pitt in 1929.

One of Nebraska's hopes lies with the fact that Pitt has not yet faced a single wing attack.

No major lineup changes were anticipated in the Pitt lineup that tied Oklahoma 7-7 last week.

Ray Ferguson, who had been running at third string fullback and saw no action in the opening loss (7-17) to West Virginia, moved into the fullback picture against Oklahoma when Dawson used him in the second string right halfback spot with good results.

Ferguson was a regular the past two years, playing at regular defensive fullback in 1951 and as a linebacker in 1952. Against Oklahoma he caught two passes, intercepted a pass and, in general, was a Pitt spark-plug.

Henry Ford and Pete Neft, who alternated at quarterback against Oklahoma, will handle the chore again today. Rudy Mattioli, who played only briefly in the first two games, will run behind Ford and Neft.

In the event Joe Capp, who has a side injury, is unable to play Saturday, and with Ray Ferguson stepping to a right halfback post, the second string fullback job will fall to Bob Kiesel, a rugged 190-pounder from Scranton, Pa. Kiesel is a sophomore and has seen no action thus in the campaign, but the Nebraska game may give the coaches a chance to see how he will react to game pressure.

Rudy Grunder, another sophomore who started against West Virginia, was out of action against Oklahoma due to an injury, but will be ready to go against the Cornhuskers and will alternate at the right guard spot with John Cenci and Joe Los, who filled the gap last week.

Ed Johnson, a sophomore who came out of nowhere to win the starting center assignment against the Sooners, will be at the pivot spot against Nebraska, backed up by junior Bob Ballock and sophomores Gary LeDonne and Ed Bose.

The left tackle spot, left vacant by the pre-season injury to Lou Palatella, will be filled by Bill Cenci, who started there against Oklahoma after Bill Schmitt had the starting left tackle role against West Virginia.

A feature of the between-haves ceremonies will include presentation, by Admiral William F. Halsey, of a plaque honoring the late Pitt coach, Jack Sutherland, on his selection to the National Football Hall of Fame.

Each team will be seeking a first victory. Nebraska has lost to Oregon and Kansas State while tying Illinois.

The teams will be reviving a series which started in 1921 and ended in 1942. Pitt holds the edge at 11-3-3. Probable lineups:

Lincoln Star Special
HASTINGS — The Hastings Tigers, using the pun-punt passing of Quarterback Tommy Osborne, crushed Northeast here Friday night and in doing so all but wrapped up the Mid-East Conference championship.

Osborne's deadly passing, balanced with the running of Bob Kingsley and Larry Dettler, proved too much for the Rockets.

Billy Fry was the backfield spark for Northeast and Guard Jack Ryan, playing for the second time this season, anchored the line.

Northeast and Hastings battled evenly in the first quarter, except for a 67-yard touchdown run by Tiger Wayne Rollins which was nullified by an off-side penalty.

The Rockets even took a lead in the second quarter when a fumble recovery by Ryan put them in position to score.

Starting on their own 45-yard line, the Rockets moved to the Hastings nine in a hurry. A 32-yard pass from Tom Pavey to End John Foster was the big play in the drive.

The Tigers thwarted a touchdown bid when Kingsley intercepted a Rocket pass on the goal line and returned to the 14.

On the next play, Dettler fumbled and Ryan recovered on the 13. Fry split the middle to score with 1:20 gone in the second quarter. John Rohrig converted.

Hastings moved 80 yards after the following kickoff to tie the score 7-7 at halftime. Osborne passed 17 yards to Rollins during the march and hit Kingsley with a pay-off pitch from 13 yards out. Dick Kleiber converted.

The Tigers authored a repeat march after receiving the second-half kick when Kingsley scoring on a seven-yard slant over the left side. An Osborne-to-Kleiber pass ate up 37 yards on that drive.

Kingsley went over from three yards out to make it 20-7 early in the fourth quarter. Kleiber's placement was short.

Dettler scored the next Hastings touchdown from 19 yards out and sub Halfback Jerry Shipman went 15 yards for the last score. A Rocket intercepted by Maynard Hantley set the least three Links had their hands on Knaub en route.

Tight Bearcat Defense Stymies Links, 14-6

Yungblut converted with 8:18 left in the third period.

The Links then got up enough steam to score. With Khronek and Larry Pickering doing the running Lincoln went 76 yards in nine plays to hit pay dirt.

Khronek scored the touchdown from 23 yards out. Roger the Dodger started around right end, was forced back inside by Scottbluff End Dick Cottrell, reversed his field and scooted through 10 other shocked Bearcats.

During the march Khronek got loose on runs of 11 and eight yards while Pickering scampered for 14.

The two teams exchanged punts freely before Lincoln again started to roll. This time it was Marty Perez and Khronek who took the Links from their own 33 to the Scottbluff 31 before losing the ball on downs.

The big Scottbluff line dug in and held whenever the Links put scoring threats except the lone Lincoln touchdown to end Lincoln's domination of the series.

Lincoln had won 13 games and tied one since the beginning of the series.

SMU Scores 20-7 Victory Over Tigers

DALLAS (AP) — Versatile Southern Methodist moved to an effortless 20-7 victory over Missouri Friday night on the blistering runs of Jerry Norton and Dale Moore and the bullseye passing of Duane Nutt.

Southern Methodist scored the first time it had the ball, rolling 57 yards in seven plays on the passing of Nutt and the running of Norton and Moore. A 26-yard dash against left end and Moore's ball on the Missouri three and in two plunges Moore went across. Bernet converted. Neither team threatened the remainder of the period.

Southern Methodist scored again midway of the second period, driving 47 yards. Clem set it up by recovering a fumble. The running of Norton and Moore and the passing of Nutt moved the Methodists along. From the Missouri four, Norton picked up a yard, and Moore a yard. Moore rammed to the two-foot line, then bucked over for the score. Bernet converted. SMU drove to the Missouri 5-yard line as the period ended.

Southern Methodist tallied again with 32 seconds to go in the third period, driving 64 yards. Sticking to the ground and with Moore and Norton chipping in with long runs, the Methodists rolled easily to a touchdown. A 21-yard burst over right tackle by Norton set the ball on the Missouri one and Tucker rammed across. Bernet missed the extra point.

Missouri finally scored midway of the fourth period on an 82-yard drive. The running and passing of Burson and the passing of Mine ate up the yardage. From the SMU 11, Mine flipped to Corpeny in the end zone for the score. Merrifield kicked the extra point.

A special king-size bed had to be ordered for Texas freshman basketball player Ellis Olmstead. The giant bed measures 84 inches long by 30 inches wide. Olmstead is six feet 10 inches tall.

Hilltoppers Draw With Tecumseh

Lincoln Star Special
TECUMSEH — College View, a one- to two-touchdown underdog, matched Tecumseh's touted line with a stout defense of its own to tie the Indians, 6-6, here Friday night.

The game was touted as a defensive battle, and that it was. The Viewmen led until the last minutes of the game when the Indians scored on two desperation plays.

The College View defensive line was led by Guard Glenn Hoy, who gave Tecumseh backs severe lack of fumblebits with his slack-bang tackling. Also rugged in the CV line were brother Marv Hoy, Jess Edwards and Harland Moot.

Tecumseh line stalwarts were 250-pound tackle John Higgins, Terry Roberts and End John Wherry.

While Lynn Hatcher, Larry Epp and Rich Madden did most of the ball-toting for the Viewmen, it was big Mike Martin who scored the only CV touchdown.

On the first play in the second quarter, the Viewmen switched from the single wing to the spread formation with big Mike Martin in the tailback spot. Martin went 29 yards from the Tecumseh 31 to put the ball on the two. He plunged over on the next play.

Jack Stinson, Tecumseh's star back, scored his team's only touchdown on a similar two-yard plunge on fourth down with time running out in the last period.

Les Dirksen threw two desperation passes to Wherry to set up the touchdown.

Interference was called on the first pass, giving the Indians the ball on the CV 15-yard line. Another heave to Wherry put the pigskin on the two.

The CV line rallied and held Tecumseh to no gain on three tries. Then Stinson crashed over to tie the score.

75,504 Fans To View Southwest Classic

Oklahoma Given Slight Nod Over Texas

DALLAS (AP) — Unexpected favorites but not enjoying the distinction, Oklahoma's victory-seeking Sooners moved into the state today for their 48th gridiron meeting with Texas in the cavernous Cotton Bowl.

The clash of these deep southwestern rivals, who started swapping touchdowns back in 1906, will draw a capacity 75,504 into the big saucer. The game will be televised nationally (NBC).

The Big Red arrived in Fort Worth, 30 miles west of Dallas for an afternoon workout and a quiet night away from the tumult of this fan-bulging city, and will come over before dawn to Texas, flying into Dallas late this afternoon.

It is the first time in years for Oklahoma to be the favorite in this colorful and storied game although Texas has won only twice in the last six years. The Sooners are a 1-point choice in the money.

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson said he couldn't see it, pointing out that his team had won a game and was "away down" whereas Texas was "up and ready" and in the proper mental frame. "Unless we snap out of a hurry we're in for a real trimming," Wilkinson said somberly.

Neither team is unbeaten. Texas lost its opener to Louisiana State 20-7 but beat Villanova 41-12 and University of Houston 28-7, rolling up 700 yards rushing and passing in the three games. It's a much better record than Oklahoma, which lost its first game to Notre Dame 28-21 then played a 7-7 tie with Pittsburgh last week. The Sooners have gained 377 yards in their two games, hardly outstanding.

Wilkinson fretted over the loss of Jack Gung, stellar halfback, who will sit this one out with a shoulder injury. Wilkinson also shuffled his lineup, the most notable change being insertion of Gene Calame at quarterback in place of Buddy Leake. But Leake will play plenty—he was a big pain to Texas in a 49-20 pasting last year.

Texas, on the other hand, is in as near perfect physical condition as could be hoped for.

The Oklahoma lineup includes three Texans—Guard Melvin Brown of Denison, Tackle Don Brown of Kermitt and Halfback Larry Grigg of Sherman.

Probable starting lineups:

Oklahoma	Pos.	Texas
Allison	LT	Spring
Langford	LT	McGraw
McGraw	LT	Younger
Roberts	LT	Branch
Nelson	LT	Folk
Boydston	LT	Massey
Calame	LT	Andrew
Carroll	LT	Womack
Grigg	LT	Quinn
McGraw	LT	Cameron

Miami Storms Past Clemson To Win By 39-7 Going Away

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Miami's high-spirited young Hurricanes shattered Clemson's defenses with a fierce six-touchdown attack in the second half Friday night to race to a 39-7 victory over the Tigers, their bitter rivals of two bowl football games.

Don James broke up a scoreless deadlock early in the third period with a 13-yard touchdown pass to Gordon Malloy, and the Hurricanes never relaxed across the goal again in the third quarter and four times in the final frame.

The victory, which gave Miami's football stock a mighty boost, was doubly satisfying to the Hurricanes because of the intense rivalry the teams had established in their meetings in the Orange Bowl in 1952 and the Gator Bowl in 1953.

Underdog Clemson slugged out a 15-14 win over Miami in the Orange Bowl game. A year later, in the Gator Bowl, the Hurricanes struck for two early touchdowns, then fought off several vicious Clemson drives to win 14-0.

NY Giants Acquire Galiffa For Walker

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Galiffa, Army's all-America quarterback of 1949, was acquired Friday by the New York Giants of the National Football League in a trade with Green Bay.

The deal has long been pending, the Giants said. In anticipation of the trade they gave the packers Val Joe Walker, former Southern Methodist back, early in the season. In addition the Packers will get the Giants' first draft pick of the winter season.

UCLA Beats Badgers 13-0

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Halfback Paul Cameron scored one touchdown and engineered another and led UCLA to a 13-0 victory over Wisconsin Friday night. A crowd of 69,161 saw UCLA of the Pacific Coast Conference win its second straight over the Big Ten Badgers.

UCLA, after an exchange of pass interceptions and punts, got the first real break and scored. Wisconsin's Witt intercepted a Cameron pass but fumbled it away on his own 24. Cameron ran 15 yards and soon after scored over right tackle from the 3. Hermann converted to put UCLA in front, 7-0.

Neither side was able to score in the second quarter but both made forays into enemy country. A 16-yard burst by Ameche started Wisconsin off but the drive ended on the UCLA 38. Cameron kept the pressure on but was unable to send the Bruins closer than the Badger 33. UCLA led 7-0 at the half.

Late in the third quarter Cameron raced 22 yards and started UCLA on a 49-yard drive that put the Bruins ahead, 13-0. Davenport picked up 17 yards in four plays in the march and scored a touchdown from two yards out. The extra point try was missed.

UCLA continued a scoring threat in the final quarter but was unable to tally. One threat was stopped by a pass interception by Wisconsin with the ball on the Badger 16, Witt grabbing the ball.

Styskal's Running Peps Seward Win

SEWARD — Paced by four spectacular touchdown runs by Ken Styskal, Seward handed David City its first defeat of the season here Friday, 25-12.

Seward received the opening kickoff and marched 70 yards in 12 plays to score. The drive was culminated by a 27-yard run by Styskal.

The Scouts came back to tie up the game 6-6 on a 59-yard run by Bill Peters on the second play after the kickoff. The teams battled on even terms the rest of the quarter.

Styskal put Seward in the lead for good with a 28-yard run in the second quarter. His other two scores came in the third period on runs of seven and 27 yards.

David City scored the final touchdown in the fourth period on a three-yard smash by Noel McInerney. Ron Wolvin plunged for Seward's only extra-point after the second-quarter touchdown.

Decker To Start For Tulsa Today

From Press Dispatches
Bobby Decker, former University of Nebraska football and baseball player, is slated to start at right halfback for the Tulsa University football team today when the Golden Hurricane face Alabama at Tuscaloosa, Ala. Decker, who transferred from Tulsa to Tulsa in 1952, competed in both sports as a Husker sophomore.

The Hurricanes, despite a 22-13 upset win over College of Pacific last week, are 20-point underdogs against tough Alabama.

Big Ten Eyes Improving Wolverines

By JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—A growing favorite and two unbeaten dark horses bow into the Big Ten football race Saturday.

Michigan's Wolverines, backing away at the season's start, are now the favorite to win the Big Ten championship. The team, which has won two easy non-league triumphs, launches its conference season at home against formidable Iowa.

Northwestern and Illinois, earlier accented second division ranking, move into league competition against Minnesota and Ohio State, respectively, after surprising warmup performances.

Three other Big Ten teams have outside engagements. Win-

Irish Have Open Date; Illini In Spot For Upset

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of underrated college football teams get their chance to grab for a bit of the season's glory Saturday while the lads who have a monopoly on the football ballots enjoy a breathing spell.

Top-ranked Notre Dame has a rare open date on its schedule. Second-rated Michigan State, seeking its 27th straight victory, figures to get it without too much trouble from Texas Christian.

That apparently leaves the way clear for such teams as Illinois, Iowa, Georgia, Tulane, Auburn, Texas, California, Louisiana State and Cornell to get their names into big headlines.

Illinois is in a perfect spot to perpetrate a major upset. The Illini apparently are no match for the big, fast-moving Ohio State team which ranked third behind Notre Dame and Michigan State in this week's Associated Press poll. But in playing a 21-21 tie with Nebraska and then beating Stanford, the Illinois team showed a mighty versatile offense that might even go against the tough Ohio defense.

Georgia and its passing star, Zeke Bratkowski, runs up against fourth-ranked Maryland. It's another game with upset possibilities.

Going on down the top 10: Michigan No. 5, with Lou Baldacci as its first sophomore starting quarterback since Forest Evashevski, Iowa, coached by Evashevski and three Michigan trained assistants.

Southern California No. 7 shouldn't have much difficulty with thoroughly trounced Washington, but Duke No. 8, Baylor

Broncs Hand Doane First Defeat, 25-13

Lincoln Star Special
CRETE — Hastings College spoiled Parents' Day at Doane Friday night by winning the College Conference game, 25-13.

The Broncos ramblined to 19 points in the first half, with three touchdowns scored by Halfback Bill Beck and a dropkick extra point by Jim Smith.

Beck scored in the first quarter from 14 yards out after a Hastings drive from their own 24. In the second quarter Beck scored twice on runs of 48 and 36 yards.

With a half-minute left in the third quarter Doane got its first counter when Jim Griffin went over from the three.

Four minutes after the final stanza opened Hastings' Ladd Cochran went over from six yards out. Doane came back with another TD by Don Crowder from the four. Crowder also kicked the point.

Geneva Rolls Past Friend

By BILL FITZGERALD
Star Sports Staff Member
GENEVA — Thirteen hundred Dads' Day fans watched a potent and unbeaten Geneva defeat a traditional foe, Friend, 25-0, on Mun Field Friday night.

A perfect first-quarter pass play and three sudden strikes in the second half sent the Wildcats of Ken Ackermann to their fifth victory of the season.

Friend's tough line checked Geneva throughout the first half except for a 20-yard touchdown pass from Dick McCashland to Fritz Murrell late in the first quarter. Guard Bob Schneider cleared the field with a block on the safety.

The Wildcats' single wing shook McCashland loose on a 34-yard touchdown run off a pitchout in the third quarter.

Murrell took a screen pass for 22 yards for third score, and Bob Johnson received from Murrell a four-yard pass for the final score.

Back Harold Morazek and End Don Hiatt looked outstanding on the Geneva line. Wes Hager pepped the Geneva running attack until suffering a head injury in the fourth quarter. He was carried off the field on a stretcher.

GENEVA SCORING: TD: Murrell 2, McCashland, Johnson, PAT: Murrell.

Troy TKO's Terry Moore

NEW YORK (AP)—Sharp-shooting Willie Troy of Washington, D. C., hammered Terry Moore all over the ring Friday night to rack up a technical knockout over the Baltimore battler in 2:49 of the seventh round of a telecast fight at St. Nicholas Arena. Troy weighed 158½, Moore 160½.

The six-foot, 21-year-old Troy was a 1-4 favorite and he fought like one all the way.

He just about swept every round, staggered his 5-8, 24-year-old foe in every round from the third on, and had him reeling in the seventh when Referee Al Berl mercifully halted the one-sided scrap.

The hard-hitting Troy pinned Terry in a neutral corner in the seventh and lashed him with 14 consecutive punches to bring the referee rushing over.

No Midget Games

No Midget football games will be played in Lincoln this Saturday. Roberts is traveling to Sioux City for a game. A game was scheduled for Magee Field (Westeyan) but was postponed because of schedule difficulties.

less Purdue visits undefeated Duke; powerful Michigan State should prove a rude host to Texas Christian; twice-beaten Indiana greets capable Marquette.

Wisconsin opened the weekend activity against UCLA at Los Angeles Friday night.

Michigan, despite romps over Washington 50-0 and Tulane 26-7, must be wary against improving Iowa, coached by a former Wolverine star, Forest Evashevski.

Iowa suffered a 21-0 opening loss to Michigan State, but neatly shackled the Spartans' slick running attack. Then the Hawkeyes pummeled Washington State 54-12.

Northwestern, boasting the nation's best offensive mark after whipping Iowa State 35-0 and Army 33-20, gets its first real test against invading Minnesota. The Paul Giel-led Gophers have been beaten twice, but by the best—Rose Bowl Champion Southern California and National Champion Michigan State.

Illinois, rallying late for a 21-21 tie with Nebraska and a 21-21 victory over Stanford, is making its first road start against a bristling Ohio State club which belted Indiana 36-12 and California 33-19.

The Buckeyes rate a two-touchdown choice to gain their second Big Ten victory to match Michigan State at 2-0 atop the loop standings.

Elmwood Romps Over Dunbar, 32-0

ELMWOOD—Dunbar provided the home team with little opposition Friday as Elmwood rolled to a 32-0 victory in six-man play.

Five Elmwood men scored touchdowns as it outtrushed its opponents 198 yards to 36 yards and gained 122 yards through the air while Dunbar netted 41.

Orville Bogenreif scored the first TD on a one-yard smash. Merle Backemeyer scored on an eight-yard run in the second period.

Dick Apt caught an eight-yard pass for the third period score. In the fourth period Keith Drake went over from the two and Dick Woods from the receiving end of a pass play that netted 48 yards and a score. Drake and Woods caught passes for the two extra points.

I-State Underdogs Against Tough KS

AMES, Ia. (AP)—Kansas State, which has held a 10-year lease on the Big Seven cellar, is favored to win its second straight conference game against Iowa State today.

A Kansas State victory also will end a string of 10 losses to the Cyclones. The Wildcats defeated Nebraska last Saturday and a victory today would practically assure them a finish above seventh place this season.

Pat Picks Pitt, Says—

Easterners Not Pantywaists

By PAT ROBINSON
NEW YORK (INS) — We have often wondered how greatly the football map might be changed if every college were forced to play only boys recruited from its own immediate vicinity.

For instance, think what powerhouse Columbia and Fordham could have if they could have their pick of half a million New York high school boys.

True, these and other eastern colleges get many stars from other sections. But this is more than offset by the scores of New York boys who are learning new accents while winning fame on the gridirons of the deep south, southwest, mid-west or far west.

We hold no grievance against boys who travel far from home for an education. On the contrary, we think it may knock some of the provincialism out of him.

But we do dislike to hear constant disparagement of the football of any one section, especially the east. We recall with pleasure the howls of dismay when a gallant little Columbia went west to play an "unbeatable" Stanford team in the Rose Bowl.

And you may recall that Columbia walloped Stanford, 7-0.

This year we already have been told that the so-called effete east has no football to compare with the brand played in other sections, an opinion with which we violently disagree.

Nebraska, for instance, may learn to its sorrow today that the East has some fair teams when it stacks up against Pitt and California also will have a battle on its hands when it invades Philadelphia to play Penn. of the off-derided Ivy League.

In fact, we are inclined to think that both Pitt and Penn may win these intersectional tests. Both Pitt and Penn are just as big, rugged and tough as Nebraska or California and the invaders will find that both Pitt and Penn play a rough game of football.

These are the top games in the East this week but there are some other equally interesting. Navy and Cornell are sure to stage a thrilling battle with the former getting the edge because of greater experience. This Cornell squad is loaded with sophomores who will be able to hold their own with anybody before the season ends.

Fordham, once one of the nation's best, is on the upbeat again. We shall get a good line on the Rams when they stack up against Syracuse today. We don't know how good Detroit may be but we do know that Fordham beat Detroit last week, 21-7.

Army, far below par, should have an easy time with sub-par Dartmouth but Harvard, also coming back on the gridiron, will have a battle on its hands with Colgate.

Yale and Columbia also should stage a thriller and this one, too, is rated a toss-up.

Bob Pascal, outstanding Duke sophomore halfback, comes from Bloomfield, N. J. His father is the physical education director for the Bloomfield high schools.

Chadwick Completes Grand Slam

CANAKKALE, Turkey (AP) — Indefatigable Florence Chadwick completed her "grand slam" of the old world's channels Friday when she swam both ways across the treacherous Hellespont, the Turkish Dardanelles.

It was the fourth channel conquest in five weeks for the 33-year-old mermaid from San Diego, Calif., who immediately announced this was her swansong as a long distance swimmer.

"This is a sport for younger people," she said. "I think I'll take up golf."

It took her one hour, 58 minutes and eight seconds to complete the round trip of six or seven miles over the choppy waters where, Greek mythology has it, Leander used to swim nightly to visit Hero, a virgin priestess of Aphrodite.

"I don't see how Leander could swim it every day," the American said after finishing the test, made more difficult by falling rain and tricky currents.

It was here also that 81 Turkish sailors perished last April in the sunken submarine, Dumlupinar. "It was a weird feeling swimming over their steel tomb," Miss Chadwick said.

Miss Chadwick began her present streak of channel conquests on Sept. 4 when she swam the English Channel from England to France in the record time of 14 hours and 42 minutes.

She tried to make it both ways but had to quit because of the cold after two and a quarter miles on the return trip.

On Sept. 20 Miss Chadwick shattered all records swimming the straits of Gibraltar from Europe to Africa in five hours and six minutes. Just two days ago she negotiated the tricky Bosphorus from Europe to Asia and back to Europe in one hour, 14 minutes, seven seconds.

There are no official records for the Bosphorus swim or for Friday's crossing of the Hellespont.

Virginia U To Join New Atlantic Loop

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) The University of Virginia late Friday accepted an invitation to become the eighth member of the new Atlantic Coast Athletic Conference.

Colgate W. Darden Jr., president of the university, accepted the invitation to join on behalf of the university. The invitation was extended by Dr. J. T. Penney, conference president, in a telephone conversation with Darden.

Gus K. Tebell, Virginia's athletic director, said joining the Atlantic Coast Conference would "have no effect on Virginia's athletic schedules this season."

"However, Virginia will be able to compete in the winter and spring tournaments," Tebell added. "Virginia's 1954 football schedule has already been drawn up, and it will not be until the fall of 1955 that Virginia will be able to adapt its schedule to requirements of the new conference."

Lancaster Road Contracts Awarded

Contracts for improvement of four Lancaster County roads have been awarded, State Engineer L. N. Rens announced.

The projects, totaling $40,518.23, will be financed with county funds matched with federal-aid secondary highway funds.

The work includes grading and culvert work on a four and two-tenths mile stretch west and north of Malcolm, grading and culvert work on a road extending from the Saunders-Lancaster line south to a point five miles north and one and one-half miles east of Waverly, grading five and three-tenths miles of road between Denton and Emerald, and grading three and two-tenths miles between Hickman and U.S. 77.

W. A. Biba Engineering Co. of Geneva was awarded the Malcolm culvert contract with a low bid of $7,848.34. Boeve Construction Co. of Sterling will receive $6,160.18 for linear grading on the road.

Waverly Work Listed

The same two firms were low bidder on the four miles of work north of Waverly. Boeve has a $5,727.96 grading contract and Biba will receive $3,851.45 for culvert work.

Abel Construction Co. of Lincoln had a low bid of $11,020.80 for the Denton grading contract. Grading and culvert work on the road, also financed with federal aid, was completed Sept. 19.

Behrens Construction Co. of Beatrice received a $5,909.50 contract for grading the Hickman road. Grading, culvert work

Meet Star Carrier Donald Denton

Donald Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Denton of Ulisses, Neb., carries The Morning Lincoln Star in his home town. He is 12 years old and in the seventh grade at the Ulisses Public School.

Although he has no hobbies, Donald likes pets very well.

Donald is looking forward to playing football for the University of Nebraska after Donald Denton finishes high school. If military duty develops for him, he would prefer the U.S. Marine Corps.

A firm believer in good service, Donald endeavors to give his customers on their porch service, as early as possible every morning. He is using the regular profits from his route to build up his savings account.

Knowing that the path to an education can be made easier to follow by practicing daily what you are learning in school, Donald believes that the small amount of time spent daily on his route is time very wisely used.

Water Supply Almost Gone At Unadilla

UNADILLA, Neb. (Lincoln Star Special) — Unadilla water consumption was cut to an absolute minimum Friday as repairs were made on the town's pumping equipment.

No water was pumped after 8:30 a.m. Village Clerk William Brandt said that four or five feet of water remained in the storage tank at 4 p.m. Friday.

"When that is gone, there will be no more," he said. "However, we have had excellent cooperation by the townspeople."

Repairs on the pump were completed Friday, but the pump could not be installed until all gravel was baled out of the well. Brandt said the bailing might end Friday night but could go on until late Saturday night.

The shutting off of the water supply climaxed two weeks of a serious water shortage. Sand started seeping into the water when a 28-year-old sand screen in the well failed. Repairs to the pump included a new sand screen replacing the 12-inch casing with an eight-inch casing and new well parts.
